Full-Stack web Developer with studies in Henry, in 2021 I began to be passionate about technologies and the development of Web Applications. Since then, I have constantly sought to improve my skills by taking courses, creating projects, informing myself and learning new technologies. I am looking for a job where I can be part of a team, aligning myself with its objectives and projects. I adapt easily and work very well, both as a team and individually.

English :B1– Intermediate.
